Mr. Bowers presented the following written motion:

Indianapolis, Ind., June 5, 1944.

Mr. President:

I move that General Ordinance No. 21, 1944, be amended by striking out all after the ordaining clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. That pursuant to all of the general statutory powers of the Common Council of said city, and specifically the act of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana of 1937, being chapter 248, a general and complete revision, codification and publication of all of the existing ordinances of the City of Indianapolis should be and the same is hereby ordered. That an emergency is hereby declared to exist for such project by reason of the following facts, to-wit: The last Municipal Code of the city was published at the close of the year 1925 and has been since supplemented by annual volumes of the Proceedings of the Common Council; that in that long period of time many portions of such code and many later ordinances have been amended, supplemented, or repealed and many provisions thereof have become obsolete, or in conflict with later statutes or with decisions of the courts, thereby creating much confusion and uncertainty in the status of municipal law controlling all city officials and the public and resulting in great loss of time and consequent expense to the taxpayers in the ascertainment by such officials of the local law applicable to their duties and to the rights and obligations of the city and the public; that it is impractical and would be a waste of public funds merely to reconcile all the annual volumes since 1925 into one or more volumes, or to provide a separate complete index therefor, thereby leaving said obsolete code in effect; that, accordingly, the public welfare will be best served by the preparation and publication at this time of a complete new and modern type municipal code, so arranged by subject matter and section numbers and possibly two or more volumes, that it can be easily supplemented by annual pamphlets and so kept up to date. When finally prepared as hereinafter provided and completed and introduced for adoption as a general ordinance, the latter shall be designated as, "Municipal Code of 194.... of the City of Indianapolis."

Section 2. That pursuant to its statutory powers in the premises and as of the date the appropriation herein made becomes effective, the Common Council hereby authorizes and directs its President to select four attorneys at law, all to be members of the bar of Marion County, Indiana, in good standing, to serve as a codification commission, to prepare subject to approval of the Corporation Counsel and submit to the Common Council a general ordinance comprising a complete revision, codification and publication of said ordinances and of the Municipal Code of 1925. It shall be the duty of the President to report to the Common Council at its next regular meeting his selection of such attorneys for such purpose which shall be subject to approval, by resolution, of the Common Council.

Section 3. After the appropriation herein provided for becomes effective, the City Clerk, as Clerk of the Common Council is hereby directed to notify the aforesaid four attorneys at law to commence the performance of such work under all the limitations and terms herein set out, or as may be hereafter specified by any amendatory ordinance or resolution of the Common Council.

Section 4. After said attorneys shall have so qualified and shall have accepted such employment they, as such commission, shall select one of its members to act as chairman. The said chairman shall be responsible for the allotment of the work incident thereto; for arrangements as to time and place for such work and for the constant faithful performance of such duties to the end that such work of revision and codification may be properly executed within the shortest possible time.

Section 5. It shall be the duty of said commission to examine all ordinances of the Common Council ordained subsequent to the passage of the Municipal Code of 1925, together with the Municipal Code of 1925 and any other ordinances not repealed thereby, and to determine which ordinances and parts thereof are still in force and effect; to remove any conflicting provisions; to delete or re-write any provisions which are clearly obsolete, void, or unconstitutional; to rearrange and combine similar provisions dealing with the same subject matter; to examine model ordinances and codes in effect in other municipalities; to consider recommendations from various officials and departments of the city and other proper sources with respect to changes therein or additions thereto and new matter in need of regulation, and generally to do all other things deemed necessary to the end that said commission may submit to the Common Council for adoption a proposed modern, complete and unified code of all such ordinance material which may be of general interest and which may tend to facilitate the execution of all proper functions of government by the various officials and departments of the city. It shall further be the duty of said commission to prepare introductory and supplemental matter to accompany the municipal code, such as an appendix and a complete index of the respective provisions of the code; indexes to any classes of special or general ordinances still in force and effect but which are not of such character as to be embodied in the code proper, and any duly adopted rules or regulations of any boards, officers, or of the Common Council, which said commission may deem advisable or to be directed by the Common Council to include, and any other matter, including the form and arrangement of such code, which said commission determines proper. Said commission shall insert reference to statutory authority and decisions of the Supreme and Appellate Court pertinent to any of the ordinance provisions. The chairman of the commission, or any member thereof, shall report the progress of such work to the Common Council at its first monthly meeting every sixty days after such work is begun, or as much oftener as the Common Council may request. It shall further be the duty of said commission, together with the Corporation Counsel and the City Clerk, as advisors thereto, to consider the matter of so arranging the material of the code that the City Clerk may publish periodical supplements thereto, causing the said code to continue in current form, so as to be, at all time, convenient for reference and not to require the expenditure of other money for frequent complete codifications. It shall be the duty of the City Clerk, at the customary time of printing the council proceedings, to cause to be printed also a sufficient number of copies of such ordinances passed as may be needed for assembling such supplements and for the use of such commission.

Section 6. It shall be the duty of the Corporation Counsel and the City Clerk, during the progress of the work, to seek all available information and advice concerning the proper and most suitable form and manner of publication of said codification, the number of copies to be published, how distributed and the price for sale. They shall take into consideration the possible advantage of the publication in more than one separate volume for the different classes of ordinances, such as, General, Special, Building, Zoning, Traffic, and any other classification, and shall determine whether thereby the convenience of the public would be best served, the cost of the publication be reduced and the revenue to the city from the sale thereof be increased, and they shall report their findings thereon to the codification commission and to the Common Council.

Section 7. The total amount of compensation to be paid to each of said attorneys upon the completion of said work shall not exceed Fifteen Hundred Dollars ($1,500.00), except that the chairman of said commission shall be paid in addition thereto the sum of Three Hundred Dollars ($300.00) for the additional duties and responsibilities herein specified; the same to be paid on vouchers signed by the City Clerk and approved by the Corporation Counsel in the same manner that other vouchers are issued and paid for other expenses of the city. Such compensation shall be paid at the rate of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) per month for each attorney during the conduct of the work, and Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) per month to the chairman in addition thereto, and upon the completion of such work any unpaid part of said total compensation for each such member shall be then due and payable; Provided, however, that $300.00 of such total compensation for each such member shall be retained until such work is approved by the Common Council.

Section 8. That pursuant to the emergency herein declared the sum of Six Thousand Three Hundred Dollars ($6,300.00) for the payment of services aforesaid, be and the same is hereby appropriated from the estimated, anticipated and unappropriated balance of and in the general fund of the City of Indianapolis for the year of 1944, and is hereby allocated to the fund classification in the city budget as "Other Compensations", under sub-item 13, under "1—Services—Personal", which fund is hereby created and set up in the present budget for the office of City Clerk.

Section 9. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and compliance with law pertaining thereto.
