And submitted the following opinion of Deputy City Attorney Joseph E. Bel!:

CITY OF INDIANAPOLIS,
OFFICE OF THE DEPARTMENT OF LAW,
INDIANAPOLIS, IND., August 21, 1899. }

Dr. E. D. Moffett, Chairman Committee on Public Health:

Dear Sir—Some days ago you, on behalf of the Committee on Public Health, to which was referred G. O. No. 44, 1899, the same being an ordinance providing for the license for the manufacturers of and dealers in cigarettes in the City of Indianapolis, asked for an opinion from this department as to the validity of said ordinance. After an examination of said ordinance and the law prescribing the powers and duties of the Common Council as it exists under the charter of the City of Indianapolis, it is my opinion that the Common Council has no power to impose a license upon the persons named in said ordinance.

Municipal corporations have only such powers as are either expressly delegated to them or are necessarily implied for the carrying out of the purposes for which they are expressly established. As to the right of occupations, municipal powers possess only such rights as are expressly conferred upon them by statute. A Common Council has no power to license any legitimate business or trade unless expressly authorized to do so by the Legislature creating it. Among the occupations designated in Section 23 of the City Charter, as to which the Common Council is given power to pass ordinances fixing licenses, no reference is made to either the manufacturers of or dealers in cigarettes, nor is there any power conferred which, by implication, could be held to authorize the Common Council to impose such license. The manufacture and sale of cigarettes being a legitimate and usual business, before the Common Council of the City of Indianapolis can impose a license thereon it must be expressly authorized so to do. There being no such authority conferred by the charter of this city, therefore this ordinance, if passed, would be entirely void.

Very truly yours,

J. E. BELL,
Assistant City Attorney.

Which was read and concurred in.

Whereas, By reason of the annexation of new territory to the City of Indianapolis since the fixing of the boundaries of the voting precincts in said city heretofore made, it has become necessary to change the boundary of Precinct Number Seven in the Fourth Ward of said city so as to include the said newly annexed territory; therefore,

Section 2. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage by the Common Council of the City of Indianapolis.

Which was read a first time and referred to Committee on Elections.

Resolved by the Common Council of the City of Indianapolis, That our Senators and Congressmen use their influence in bringing about said results.

That the City Clerk be instructed to forward each with a copy of these resolutions.

The following communication was read:

SWIFT AND COMPANY,
UNION STOCK YARDS,
CHICAGO, August 18, 1899. }

To the Honorable the City Council of the City of Indianapolis, Indiana:

Gentlemen—We note that your body proposes to pass an ordinance requiring the Big Four Railway to elevate its tracks, and in this connection would say that said railway runs a side track or spur to the property occupied by the undersigned, which said side track is necessary to the undersigned in the transaction of its business, and we respectfully represent to your honorable body that if said tracks are elevated in accordance with the proposed ordinance it will work material damage to the undersigned in the transaction of its business, involving not only remodeling of our building, but rendering our operations more difficult and expensive than at the present time, besides greatly depreciating the value of the property. We wish to protest against the proposed ordinance and request that you take this objection under consideration. We are,

Yours respectfully,

SWIFT AND COMPANY,
Per A. F. EVANS.

And referred to Committee on Railroads.
