COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE MAYOR.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
CITY OF INDIANAPOLIS.
INDIANAPOLIS, IND., February 5, 1906.

To the President and Members of the Common Council, Indianapolis, Ind.:

GENTLEMEN: In transmitting to you herewith a general ordinance revising the list of officials and employes of the City of Indianapolis, I feel that a word explanatory thereof is due your Honorable Body.

I am not in favor, and never have been an advocate, of salary changes, especially after appointments have been made, and I have not consented to the preparation and introduction of this ordinance with a view of so increasing the remuneration of any official, but I believe it is due to the people of Indianapolis that the actual number of employes in each department should be provided for by law in such a way that every citizen will be able to inform himself, if he so desires, as to just the number of employes and the amount of compensation each receives. The total amount of additional positions and increases provided for in this ordinance aggregates about $6,000.00 per annum. I believe careful examination of the sections of the ordinance in which these are provided for will satisfy your Honorable Body that there has been no effort made to unduly compensate employes of any particular department, or to provide for employes that are unnecessary.

In the very few increases of compensation that have been recommended in the ordinance, I believe it will be found that in every instance, the work of the departments has so grown as to render it absolutely essential that a higher grade of talent be secured to discharge the duties of the positions. In the entire list embodied in this ordinance there are created but four additional positions.

The salary ordinance at present upon the statute books is one that was passed over twelve years ago, at a time when the work of the city government was not half so great as at present, and I believe you will readily agree with me that the time has come when there should be a complete readjustment of the list of employes. Every employe mentioned in the ordinance with the four exceptions noted above, is already upon the pay-roll. It has grown to be a custom for the increased needs of each department to be cared for arbitrarily each year by additions to the clerical force for which no regular compensation has been fixed by ordinance. I am not in favor of a continuation of this, and hence have agreed with the Controller and City Attorney in the preparation of this ordinance. It is much better policy to be absolutely frank with the people.

I have the honor to remain,

Yours respectfully,

CHARLES A. BOOKWALTER,
Mayor.

At this time Mr. Davis entered the Council Chamber and took his seat.
