COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE MAYOR.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
CITY OF INDIANAPOLIS.
INDIANAPOLIS, IND., August 23, 1906.

To the President and Members of the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN: I return herewith without my approval the following ordinances:

General Ordinance No. 50, 1906, being "an ordinance authorizing and empowering the Board of Public Works of the City of Indianapolis, Indiana, to improve the first alley south of St. Joseph street from east property line of Delaware street to the west property line of Alabama street, with brick roadway."

General Ordinance No. 51, 1906, being "an ordinance authorizing and empowering the Board of Public Works of the City of Indianapolis, Indiana, to improve Twelfth street from the east property line of Central avenue to the west property line of College avenue, except the crossings of Park avenue and Broadway, with wooden block roadway."

General Ordinance No. 52, 1906, being "an ordinance authorizing and empowering the Board of Public Works of the City of Indianapolis, Indiana, to improve Twenty-fifth street from the east property line of Meridian street to the west property line of Pennsylvania street, with asphalt roadway, brick gutters and curb."

General Ordinance No. 53, 1906, being "an ordinance authorizing and empowering the Board of Public Works of the City of Indianapolis, Indiana, to improve Seventeenth street from the east property line of Central avenue to the west property line of College avenue, with asphalt roadway."

General Ordinance No. 54, 1906, being "an ordinance authorizing and empowering the Board of Public Works of the City of Indianapolis, Indiana, to improve Arch street from the east property line of Broadway to the west property line of College avenue, with wooden block roadway."

General Ordinance No. 55, 1906, being "an ordinance authorizing and empowering the Board of Public Works of the City of Indianapolis, Indiana, to improve West street, from the south property line of Morris street to the south property line of Wisconsin street, with brick roadway and curb."

General Ordinance No. 56, 1906, being "an ordinance authorizing and empowering the Board of Public Works of the City of Indianapolis, Indiana, to improve Twenty-fourth street from the east property line of Illinois street to the west property line of Meridian street, with asphalt roadway and combined curb and gutter."

General Ordinance No. 61, 1906, being "an ordinance authorizing and empowering the Board of Public Works of the City of Indianapolis, Indiana, to improve the first alley east of Pennsylvania street from the north property line of St. Clair street to the south property line of Pratt street, with brick roadway."

My reason for withholding my approval of these ordinances is, that more than sixty days have elapsed from the time the same were remonstrated against to the time of their passage by your honorable body under Section 107 of the Charter of the City of Indianapolis, are of no effect, having died through the lapse of the time limit.

In this connection I feel that it is due not only to the members of your honorable body, but to the people of Indianapolis, that the policy and plan of the administration relative to street improvements should be further outlined. If Indianapolis is to continue to grow, it must advance along the line of street improvements at least as rapidly as along other lines, a thing which it has not done during the past five years. It is not the desire of the Board of Public Works or of myself to place unnecessary burdens upon property owners, but remonstrances filed which in the opinion of the Board do not present sufficient reasons against the making of the improvements will not in any way affect the action of such Board. Under the terms of the Charter, whenever such remonstrances are overruled, it is necessary, to make the previous action of the Board of Works operative, that such action should receive the approval of your honorable body by a two-thirds vote of the members thereof within sixty days from the time of the filing of such remonstrance. I am satisfied that all the departments of the city government will receive the earnest and willing co-operation of the members of the Common Council in carrying out any work which proves necessary for the benefit of the general community, but I wish at this time to call your attention to this Charter provision, with the hope than on future improvement resolutions action can be had within the time limit, thus not only securing the improvement without unnecessary delay, but also saving to the City Treasury considerable expense connected with the letting and readvertising of such work, not to mention the additional labor entailed upon the Board of Public Works. I am pleased to say that new resolutions providing for all these improvements have been adopted by the Board of Public Works, and should the same remonstrances be made against this work, new ordinances will be transmitted to your honorable body for your approval or rejection.

I have the honor to remain,

Very truly yours,

CHARLES A. BOOKWALTER,

Mayor.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
CITY OF INDIANAPOLIS.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., August 24, 1906.

To the President and Members of the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN: I return herewith without my approval Special Ordinance No. 2, 1906, being "an ordinance annexing certain territory to the City of Indianapolis, defining a part of the boundary line of said city, and fixing the time when the same shall take effect."

My reason for withholding my approval of this ordinance is that from the description contained in the ordinance and from the wording of the ordinance itself, serious doubt arises as to the intent of your honorable body. I cannot approve an ordinance annexing new territory which in my opinion is not drawn in such way as to prove of direct benefit to the city. I am in favor of the annexation of the ground north of Indianapolis on the line of 46th street extended east and west, but would not disapprove of this ordinance because it did not provide for the incorporation of all of the ground extending north to such street, but I believe that it will best serve the interests of the citizens of Indianapolis for this ordinance to be returned without approval, and a new ordinance granted after consultation of the representatives of your honorable body and other departments of city government. I am ready to take up this matter with your committee at once, and believe it will be easy for us to reach an agreement which will prove satisfactory to all parties.

I have the honor to remain,

Very truly yours,

CHARLES A. BOOKWALTER,

Mayor.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

Appropriation Ordinance No. 14, 1906, being "an ordinance appropriating the sum of $700.00 to and for the use of the Department of Public Works, and fixing a time when the same shall take effect."

Appropriation Ordinance No. 13, 1906, being "an ordinance appropriating the sum of $250.00 to and for the use of the Department of Public Health and Charities, and fixing a time when the same shall take effect."

General Ordinance No. 65, 1906, being "an ordinance for the protection of permanently improved streets, and providing for the construction of water and gas connections before the permanent improvement of streets."

I have the honor to remain,

Very truly yours,

CHARLES A. BOOKWALTER,

Mayor.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
CITY OF INDIANAPOLIS.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., September 17, 1906.

To the President and Members of the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN: I transmit herewith an estimate of the amounts needed during the fiscal year 1907, for the use of the various departments of the city government, such estimates having been prepared by the various Boards, together with the City Controller and myself, and also send to you a communication from the City Controller relative to such estimates, all of which documents I know will receive careful consideration at your hands.

An examination of the figures show the total valuation of all taxables, less the amount allowed by law for mortgage exemptions, to be \$158,546,005.00, this being the only source other than miscellaneous receipts from which the revenues of the city may be derived. An examination of the figures presented by the Controller shows that the appropriations for the fiscal year 1907 exceed those of the fiscal year 1906 in the sum of \$117,880.90. In order to secure the amount of money deemed to be absolutely necessary for the purposes of government, estimating the miscellaneous receipts in the most liberal manner, it will in my opinion be necessary to levy for municipal purposes not less than eighty cents (80c) on each one hundred dollars (\$100) of taxables. This levy, together with the special tax imposed by the last Legislature of five cents (5c) on each one hundred dollars (\$100) for sinking fund purposes, added to the four cents (4c) provided for the purpose of track elevation, together with one-half cent ($\frac{1}{2}$ c) each for the police and firemen's pension funds, will render necessary the fixing of a gross levy of ninety cents (90c) upon each one hundred dollars (\$100).

Any increase in the burden of taxation I take it is to be avoided wherever and whenever possible, but the increased demands upon the city, incident to the rapid growth of Indianapolis, renders it absolutely imperative that additional revenues should be obtained. It is not my purpose or intention to enter into a detailed statement of all the increases provided for in the figures submitted, because I realize that such figures will be most thoroughly and carefully reviewed by the members of your honorable body, but I desire to call your attention to the fact that of the increase of $117,880.90 provided for, the following principal items should be set forth not only to the members of the Common Council, but to the people of the City of Indianapolis:

In the Park Department an increased allowance of $14,700.00 has been made. This amount in my opinion is not as much as the legitimate demands of the parks warrant, but taken together with all other increases rendered absolutely necessary, is as much as the Treasury can stand at this time. While the figures only show an increase of $14,700.00 over the amount named in the levy of 1906, I desire to call your attention to the fact that in effect the increase is $34,700.00, as the appropriation for the current year carried with it a charge of $20,000.00 as final payment upon the grounds purchased from the State of Indiana by the City during the year 1904, such grounds being the ones now occupied by the Institution for the Education of the Deaf.

I again advance to the people the proposition that no money spent for any other purpose brings as great returns as does the money spent for park purposes. I am not ready, if I had the power, to embark in any wholesale or reckless development of parks and boulevards, but I do stand committed to the proposition that the general good of Indianapolis demands that we shall keep pace in a municipal way with our growth in other directions, and it shall be my purpose to extend the boulevard system and to continue the development of all public parks, acquiring other grounds for such use whenever possible.

In the item of police, you will find an increase of $51,151.16. I have had some previous experience in fixing tax levies, and speak advisedly when I say that in making provisions for the various city departments, the department of police has always been made to stand for more than its share of retrenchment. It has been the general rule that after other departments have been cared for the police shall be given whatever is left, and as the result of this policy, while other departments have in a measure kept pace with the growth of the city and have been enlarged so as to handle that portion of the city's business entrusted to them, the police department has remained practically stationary. In this connection, I call your attention to the estimate made by the Board of Public Safety in 1905, when an additional fifty police were asked for, but when the levy was fixed by the Controller, as such examination will show, the request for fifty men had been met by an allowance of five men. Early in the year of 1906, the administration decided to, in a measure, at least, bring the police department up to what should be its normal condition, and as the result of such determination, forty-five additional patrolmen have been added to the force, including the installation for the first time of the mounted police feature; which additional branch of the service is rendered absolutely necessary for the proper patrolling of the new boulevards. In the estimates sent to you herewith and in the increases called for, a further addition to the mounted branch of the service is provided for as well as an increase in the number of bicycle men, the most efficient branch of the police organization.

An examination of the figures submitted for this department will fail to show that any provision has been made for sub-stations, a most necessary thing in order that the city may be properly and more efficiently policed. Indianapolis has outgrown the village plan of having every policeman, twice each day, coming to one central station. The great distances necessarily traveled in making these daily reports to headquarters renders it necessary for the various patrolled districts to remain for many hours wholly without police protection. I have not overlooked this necessity, even though provision has not been made herein for the construction of such sub-stations. It is the purpose of the administration, provided the idea meets with the approval of your honorable body, to take up this question of sub-stations immediately after January 1, 1907, and by such arrangements as may be possible and deemed best, provide during the year 1907 for the construction of two such sub-stations. This can only be done and can only be properly done by means of bond issues. Police stations are permanent assets, and should be built in such manner that the entire burden of their construction shall not fall upon the people of to-day. They are constructed for the benefit of those who will come after us as well as for the benefit of those of us here now, and the cost of such additional buildings should be paid for through the medium of a sinking fund, and not from current revenues.

Another increase called for will be found in the figures submitted by the Board of Public Works. First, you will find an appropriation of $17,500.00 for the collection of ashes, it being the intention of the Board of Public Works to provide by contract for the removal of ashes and other refuse by the city direct, such contract to be co-extensive with the new contract for the removal of garbage. This provision is made along the line of the city healthful, and is made in co-operation with the Board of Public Health in its efforts to improve existing sanitary conditions.

Another item which you will find under the head of the Department of Public Works, is $10,000.00 for the construction of public conveniences. Indianapolis is the excursion center of Indiana. The many interurban railroads which have but recently commenced operations, together with the unequaled facilities offered by the steam roads, makes Indianapolis the natural trading point for thousands of the people of Indiana. It is our purpose within the coming year to provide for these strangers within our gates as well as for the people of the city, suitable conveniences which will render it unnecessary for men to frequent improper places, and which will contribute to the comfort and health of women and children who are now denied access to suitable and proper accommodations. It is the intention to make one of these conveniences for men and one for women and children, and to construct them under ground in convenient central locations. I sincerely trust that this item will meet with your approval and consideration. It is my purpose to keep Indianapolis in the front, and to make it a pioneer in providing all those things which will render it an attractive place for the stranger as well as a comfortable place for its own people.

Another item to be found under the Department of Public Works, is an increase of $20,000.00 for sweeping and cleaning improved streets. I feel that this administration may be pardoned for "pointing with pride" to its record as to clean streets. Never before since Indianapolis has had permanently improved streets, have such highways been kept in as cleanly a condition. To do this takes money, and we approach the responsibility for such increased appropriation with the firm belief that the people will approve our action.

Under the Department of Public Health you will find among other increases an additional appropriation of the City Hospital for $9,556.25, rendered necessary by my determination to make this institution what it should be, a model one. The kitchen of a hospital is a most important department. I do not lose sight of the fact that this institution is in a measure a charitable one, but it ministers to the stricken people of Indianapolis, and those of us blessed with good health or with the means for caring for ourselves when afflicted should not rest content with providing for our less fortunate citizens, when in our care, a bare subsistence, but should furnish such nourishing food as would not only be relished by the sick, but would the more quickly restore them to health, and thus shorten the time during which they would be a charge upon the city treasury.

A compilation of these figures will show that these items above mentioned, no one of which I believe can be eliminated, amount to $122,907.41, a sum greater than the total increase of expenditures as set out before in this communication. There have been other increases which would swell this item, such increases as have been rendered necessary by the addition of new health officers in the Board of Health, by the employment of additional inspectors in the Engineer's office, which has been rendered necessary by the vastly increased amount of public improvement, which has been and is now being made, but such increases, together with the excess of the six items enumerated above, have been cared for by decreased appropriations in other funds of the various departments, it being our purpose to make decreases whenever possible just as willingly as we have decided to make increases whenever deemed necessary.

As a last word to you in this connection, permit me to say that the streets cannot be kept clean without money, and we intend to keep them clean; that streets cannot be kept in good repair without money, and we intend to keep them in repair; that a city does not differ from an individual, and that no improvements can be made without spending money. While recognizing these facts, and while determined to spend money whenever necessary, I desire to say to the people of Indianapolis, that the purpose of the administration is to exercise the closest scrutiny of all expenditures and to insist upon economy without being betrayed into parsimony.

I have the honor to remain,

Very truly yours,

C. A. BOOKWALTER,
Mayor.

CITY OF INDIANAPOLIS.
DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE,
OFFICE OF CITY CONTROLLER,
INDIANAPOLIS, IND., September 14, 1906.

Hon. Charles A. Bookwalter, Mayor:

SIR: I submit herewith estimates for appropriations for the several departments for the year 1907, as revised by me.

The appraisement of property within the limits of the city subject to taxation as certified to me by the Assessor is as follows:

Real Estate and Improvements.....	$104,533.525
Personal Property	41,394.685
Assessment by State Board.....	16,931,220
	$162,859.430
Less Mortgage Exemptions	4,313.425
Net total valuation.....	$158,546.005

Number of polls, 43,915.

The aggregate of estimates submitted by the departments is $1,905,595.24, and as revised is $1,705,938.24. The total appropriations for year 1906, as adopted by the Common Council in the month of September, 1905, is $1,588,057.34, showing an increase for the year 1907 of $117,880.90. The rapid growth of our city with consequent greater demands upon the various funds of the several departments, together with the recent increase of the numerical strength of the police force and contemplated improvements in said department, warrants and necessitates this proposed increase in the appropriations.

I estimate that the receipts for the year 1907 from all sources, other than from taxes, will amount to \$400,000.00, this leaves the sum of \$1,305,938.24 to be raised by taxation. I further estimate that a levy of 80 cents on each \$100.00 of taxable property and 50 cents on each poll will be required for general purposes, 4 cents on each \$100.00 for track elevation, $\frac{1}{2}$ cent on each \$100.00 for each the police and firemen's pension funds, and 5 cents on each \$100.00 for city sinking fund, these additional levies being provided for and required by statutes, thus making the total city levy 90 cents.

I respectfully recommend the adoption of the appropriations as herein fully set out.

Very truly yours,

GEO. T. BREUNIG,
City Controller.
