No doubt you plan to start a successful legal career soon, so here's a tip:

Start reading Law Week now. While you're still in law school.

Why? Because top attorneys nationwide read Law Week every week, and as you know, it's never a bad idea to follow in the footsteps of the best. But more importantly—

Law Week gives you complete coverage of today's most important cases, with immediate notification of precedent-setting court decisions in every legal field, plus unparalleled Supreme Court reporting.

Indeed, Law Week puts you on the cutting edge of American law.

What better way to start a successful legal career.

Make your move now. Ask your professor for details on Law Week's low student rates today.

The United States Law Week
The Indiana International & Comparative Law Review, published by the Indiana University School of Law—Indianapolis since 1991, is a student-edited law journal that provides a forum for the discussion and analysis of contemporary issues in international and comparative law. The Review publishes articles by prominent legal scholars, practitioners, and policy makers from around the world, as well as student-written notes and comments.

The Review is published twice annually, with a periodic third issue devoted to a specific topic in international or comparative law. In 1994, in conjunction with the Italian Academy for Advanced Studies in America at Columbia University, the Review published a special issue on the political and social aspects of Italian law, and in 1996 the Review will publish an issue addressing aspects of Chinese law.

Enrich your knowledge of the world around you, and help support the study of international law at Indiana University, with a subscription to the Indiana International & Comparative Law Review. Subscriptions are $18.00 per year within the U.S./$21.00 per year outside the U.S. (please make your check payable to Indiana International & Comparative Law Review).
