

Buzz Spector's The Book Maker's Desire: Writings on the Art of the Book, in which artist, critic and theoretician Spector explores the act of reading, the fetishism of the book object, meditations on Broodthaers and Baldessari, Anselm Kiefer and Walter Hamady, is a must on everyone's reading list.

Women of the Book: Jewish Artists, Jewish Themes is a 96-page full-color illustrated catalog of the exhibit, curated by Judith A. Hoffberg, which has been traveling throughout the United States since 1997.

This catalog features texts by the 94 artists themselves, an essay by the curator, an homage by the late David Cole, and full-color images of more than 125 bookworks from Australia, New Zealand, Canada, England, Italy, Israel, South Africa and the United States.

Order directly from Friends of the Library, Florida Atlantic University, Wimberly Library, Special Collections, P.O. Box 3092, Boca Raton, FL 33431-0992. $20.00 plus $3.95 postage

You can also pay by Paypal. If you have a credit card, bank account and/or e-mail address, you can pay from most countries of the world as well as domestically. It's free in the USA. Just visit <http://www.paypal.com> and register and send your subscription to: umbrella@ix.netcom.com

Please return a copy of this order form with your check or money order.

Mail to:
Umbrella Associates
P.O. Box 3640
Santa Monica, CA
USA 90408
fax: 310 399-5070

The Bookmaker's Desire: Writings on the Art of the Book $11.95

Umbrella: The Anthology documents the first twenty-plus years of Umbrella, including profiles of alternative spaces, interviews with major figures in the artist book, mail art and Fluxus world, as well as 20 artist pages made especially for this anniversary edition! Essential reading for anyone interested in alternative media.
 $20.00 paperback

Please add $2.50 for postage and handling

total enclosed

Name _____

Address _____
please print

City _____

State _____

Zip Code _____

Please turn over for subscription information about Umbrella, an art publications newsletter.